Easter Dress Round-Up!

With Easter just a few weeks away I wanted to do a little round up of my favorite Easter dresses for the little ones this year! I'm not a super fancy dresser as it is and especially when it comes to my girls. I want them to wear a nice dress but I also feel like it's important that they are comfortable and able to play as well. So here is a list of my favorite dresses I have come across this season that would make the perfect Easter dress for your little ladies!

1. This Coco Dress by Eden & Zoe: I am majorly crushing over this one and ALL 3 color choices it comes in. My daughter thinks a tutu is essential to every outfit she wears so when I saw this tutu dress I knew I had to have it for her! The pink & purple together is the perfect Easter combo if you have two girls like I do. I'd probably throw a cardigan (like this) over these to dress them up and make them the perfect dress for Easter! Shop this dress HERE.

2. The Kelly Dress (also) by Eden & Zoe: I am a huge fan of classic looks and there is nothing more classic than a white dress. I typically would shy away from white but Easter is the one occasion I can totally get on board with it (not to mention baptisms, communions etc). The ribbon tie straps and the eyelet material really make this dress stand out and I absolutely love that about it! You can shop this dress HERE.
